

Survey Says...

The Department of Energy (DOE) denied Air-Conditioning, Heating, and Refrigeration Institute's (AHRI's) petition for reconsideration of walk-in standards. Is it getting harder to reach consensus on efficiency standards?

Yes. DOE is not adequately addressing industry concerns.

58%

No. It has always been difficult to reach agreement.

30%

Undecided.

13%